NEWS AND COMMENT.

Now that Chicago has secured the World's Fair, New York is endeavoring to belittle the whole project. Don't be a "dog in the manger!"

ALTHOUGH not yet the "height of the season," Asheville is already crowded with Northern visitors. Spring is very delightful and accommodations are very elegant in Fayetteville (we would remark parenthetically), if hotel room is difficult to obtain up there.

THE Raleigh Daily Chronicle is a valuable acquisition to North Carolina journalism. Typographically, it is a credit to the printers employed thereon, while the "meat" of its handsome pages is of that fine grain and wholesome flavor which we would expect from the trained eclecticism, correct taste and excellent judgment of Mr. JOSEPHUS DANIEL.

ANOTHER weather fiend has just "riz" up to vex the soul of the patient newspaper reader. This time he hails from the breezy West, and rejoices in the plebeian patronymic of HICKS. More ambitious than his predecessors, VENNOR and HIGGINS, he adds earthquakes to the meteorological prophet's ordinary stock-in-trade of blizzards, snow-storms, cyclones, etc., and his performance of the "war of the elements" will commence some time to-morrow.

THE newspapers charge that Rev. DE WITT TALMAGE has been giving the credulous public a series of sermons, purporting to be inspired by his personal experiences in the Holy Land, which he really tinkered and patched up in his study, with the assistance of divers encyclopedias, books of travel, etc. Sensationalism is poor stock to "bank" on in any chosen walk of life, but the mountebank in the pulpit will sooner or later assuredly come to grief.

THE recent ghastly tragedy at Kara, Russia, in which Madame SIGIDA, a political prisoner, was flogged to death, has put the whole enlightened world in sympathy with Nihilism—with anything that may rid the earth of the infernal tyrants whose cruelties, at the close of the nineteenth century, shame the barbarities of Catharine and Ivan, the Terrible. Madame SIGIDA'S offense was slapping the face of a brutal gaoler—doubtless for some unendurable insult—and her punishment was so unutterably horrible that many of the prisoners poisoned themselves in shuddering dread of a similar fate.

JUST think! Although, according to Prof. MOSES—whose slander against this State Mr. BLAIR, of New Hampshire, quoted with much unction during his speech in the United States Senate the other day—"there are no States on the face of the earth, in the hands of Protestant people, whose schools are so horrible as the schools of Tennessee and North Carolina," the educators of the old regime managed to turn out such men as GEO. E. BADGER, WILLIE P. MANGUM, WM. A. GRAHAM, BEDFORD BROWN, JAS. C. DOBBIN—and hosts of others equally distinguished. What intellectual Titans we might have produced to the world, with the training of such "latter-day" saints as MOSES, "Pilgrim" ASHLEY, etc!

ONLY about $2.50 to every man, woman and child in the United States and Territories—black and white, Indians and Chinamen—will be expended this year in pensions. The Union soldier seems to be a plant of perennial growth: he never dies (and, of course, never resigns); and, although a quarter of a century has elapsed since the display of his matchless valor in behalf of a suffering country, he appears in undiminished activity and youthfulness year after year, from all the corners of the earth, in pursuit of his stipend. Each succeeding Congress about doubles the appropriation for his benefit; and if the Union soldier continues to "multiply" at the present alarming rate, the question of his support will be more vexatious than the problem of the horse-shoe nails—so far from "Uncle Sam" having money laid by in his "chist," he will soon be on the borrow to provide for the keep of this "white elephant."

FOR one, the OBSERVER desires to go on record as opposing in toto the sale of hundreds and thousands of acres of land in Eastern North Carolina, the property of the school fund of the State, for a mere song. The fact that timbered lands in North Carolina are a good investment no one will doubt for a moment; that they are being sold for less than their real value is shown by the fact that large bodies have been recently disposed of at less—far less—than one dollar an acre. Indeed, we do not believe we would be stepping beyond the bounds of truth and reason did we say that not in a single instance have these lands sold for one-half their real value. The fact that they are sought after and bought at such prices is evidence on its face of their intrinsic value. There should at least be some remedy for this existing evil, and before it is too late. The OBSERVER sounds the note of warning. Who will take up the cudgel?

The Wrong Way.

If parental authority is carried too far it becomes nothing less than oppression of the weak. As children grow nearer and nearer to manhood and womanhood, their natural rights, as human beings and members of society, unfold more and more distinctly before them. This is the time for fathers and mothers to be "wise as serpents and harmless as doves." Not that harm is meant, but it is done all the same, often and again—done when only good was intended by a mistaken idea of what was right. Young girls are very sensitive creatures. Their hearts are full of little secrets and girlish thoughts. These are utterly harmless where they are, but just as soon as you tear them out they become dangerous indeed. Now I know a father who thought his daughters were receiving letters from young men who were not desirable acquaintances for young girls. He didn't take his children away from the rest of the family, and explain why this correspondence was wrong; he didn't let them know that he loved them so much he dreaded the thought of harm to them; he didn't write to the young men, himself, and ask them to find friends elsewhere. He ought to have done these things, but he didn't. He simply went to the post-office, got one of the letters, tore it open, read it, and, in the presence of the younger children, scolded and berated one of the girls, declaring her to be utterly unworthy, and commanding her to write no more letters to the young man, and expressing his intention, in the strongest language, of reading every letter that came into the house. And then? Well, the girls wept and grieved for a while, and then all grew peaceful again. But what had happened? The father had lost the respect of his children. That was bad enough, but not the worst, for they immediately found some one who would receive and send their letters. Such a person is a bad friend for a girl, because only those who are destitute of character would do such a thing. So the father had placed his own daughters in the power of a person to whom they should not speak. Do you think either of these girls will ever take a letter to father to know what is best to do with it? Do you think they are likely to ask his advice in their affairs? I think not. By his own act he has cut them off from his influence. They distrust him. Is it any wonder that so many parents feel the pain that is "sharper than a serpent's tooth?"

The Loaf of Domestic Happiness.

There is nothing but the old-fashioned religion of Jesus Christ that will take a woman through the trials of home life. At first, there may be a romance or a novelty that does for a substitute. The marriage hour has just passed, and the perplexities of the household are more than atoned for by the joy of being together, and by the fact that when it is late they do not have to discuss the question as to whether it is time to go! The mishaps of the household, instead of being a matter of anxiety and reprehension, are a matter of merriment—the loaf of bread turned into a geological specimen; the slushy custards; the jaundiced or measly biscuits. It is a very bright sunlight that falls on the cutlery and the mantel ornaments of a new home.

But after a while the romance is all gone, and then there is something to be prepared for the table that the book called "Cookery Taught in Twelve Lessons" will not teach. The recipe for making it is not a handful of this, a cup of that and a spoonful of something else. It is not something sweetened with ordinary condiments, or flavored with ordinary flavors, or baked in ordinary ovens. It is the loaf of domestic happiness, and all the ingredients come down from Heaven, and the fruits are plucked from the tree of life! and it is sweetened with the new wine of the kingdom, and it is baked in the oven of home trial. Ah, my readers, that is the loaf you want in the pantry, the loaf of domestic happiness—sweet to the taste, satisfying to the soul, full of the flour of life!

Refused to be Identified.

Chicago News.]

A wealthy New Yorker recently had an exciting parley in the Bank of England, where he had presented a number of notes for exchange into American money. "We don't know you, sir," said the teller. "You must be identified." "I shall not be identified," said the New Yorker. "You must cash your notes or I'll make trouble." The cashier came up and tried to smooth things over; he spoke about the time-honored custom, etc. "At least," the cashier said, "we shall require you to put your name on the back of the notes." "I shall do no such thing," vociferated the New Yorker; "I am solvent and entirely responsible; I shall not indorse your paper, and [taking out his watch] unless you accept your notes in five minutes' time I will send them to protest." This heroic treatment created a great sensation in the sleepy old bank; but the notes were cashed, and the New Yorker went his way triumphantly. He was Jay Gould's secretary, Morosini.

The Deepest Coal Mine.

Very few people, in looking at the dusky diamonds as they lie upon the fire, know of the effort and the danger that surrounds the individual who plies his vocation in digging the same, as the mines are under ground, and some very deep. The deepest one in America is in Pottsville, Pa. The shaft is 1,576 feet deep. From its bottom, almost a third of a mile down, 206 cars, holding four tons each, are lifted every day. They are run upon a platform, and the whole weight of six tons is hoisted at a speed that makes the head swim, the time occupied in lifting a full car being little more than a minute. The hoisting and lowering of men into coal mines is regulated by law, and only ten can stand on the platform at once, under penalty of a heavy fine.

The Colossal Czar.

Both in appearance and manner, the Czar is a Muscovite of the old Cossack type. He is a colossal figure, being a giant both in height and girth, quite bald, with a flat nose, an immense sweeping moustache, and a stupendous beard which flows over his chest.

Owing to the severe weather, deep snow, and short feed, the cattlemen on the Uinta range, Wyoming, are gathering all the cattle for the purpose of shipping them into Kansas and Nebraska to feed. It is estimated that over 50,000 would be shipped during the next two months.

Beauty.

What shall we do about it? None of us are ready to die, and none of us want to grow old. If we could only follow Rider Haggard's imagination, down into the bowels of the earth, and bathe ourselves, as "She" did, in the "fire of life," and remain young and beautiful forever. But then we can't. So surely as we live we must lose our youth, and with it whatever beauty of person we may once have possessed. It is natural for every human heart to love beauty, and the most beautiful of all God's creation is a lovely woman. But since beauty is such a treasure, so rare and precious as to be prized above all else, and then as it is so frail as to perish and die at the smallest touch of disease, or sorrow, or age, those who own it are hardly so fortunate as we who only look on. To be loved is what all women earnestly desire. Nothing can take the place of love. Now, a beautiful woman is rarely loved for herself. People rave over her beauty, and being satisfied with that, fall in love with it, and the woman herself, as like as not, never has one single lover or admirer. I would not undervalue beauty, but it is a dangerous gift. One who possesses it is so apt to think that it is enough, so apt to worship it and make an ideal of her own fair face, which must so soon fade and wither, and lose that which made it lovable. There should be about every woman something better than beauty, something we care more for, something that others find good and attractive in us. Beauty should not be a woman's only recommendation to favor. She should have so much beside that her beauty, however perfect, would be as one fair flower blooming on a plant among hundreds of other sweet blossoms, so that the fading and falling away of this one would scarcely be noticed, not at all missed. Beauty is only the flush of the morning; it is gone when the day is fairly upon us. A beautiful woman should thank God for her beauty just as she would thank Him for a perfect, fragrant flower, which she is sure to find to-morrow with faded, fallen leaves. She should be so much more than beautiful that people will speak of that last, and then, when old age has come, she will not have been robbed of that which she valued most.

A Year of Harrison.

New York World.]

The country has had one year of Benjamin Harrison to-day. How does the country find itself on the anniversary?

No better, certainly. Wages have not advanced. Farm products bring no better prices. Living is not cheaper to any human being who must earn a living by toil. The army of the unemployed is not diminished. Commerce is not more active. Nobody is better off in fact or in prospect except the monopolists who paid for this incapable's election and whose servants he and his Congressional supporters are.

The surplus which a year ago seemed about to compel a reduction of taxation has been swept away in extravagance, and instead of reducing, the dominant party in Congress is planning to increase, the people's burdens.

The Civil Service has been again prostituted to the spoilsmen from whose foul embrace it had partially escaped.

The scandal of Wannamaker in the Cabinet by purchase, and his drumming for his shop among the Pan-American delegates, humiliated a self-respecting people.

The alliance with two monarchies for the spoliation of Samoa, and the long refusal to welcome the Republic in Brazil have deeply wounded American sentiment.

The shameful protection of Dudley; the scandalous jury packing in Florida; the infamous dicker by which Warmouth is made the official representative of the administration in Louisiana—and a score of like things have made the first year of this Administration more shameful than any year of any other Administration has ever been.

And what do the people think of Harrison himself? No newspaper of any party and no member of Congress ever mentions him as a possible candidate for re-election at the end of his term. Nobody speaks with respect of his administration, or of himself as a man of ability or influence even in his own party.

In one year he has ruined his own political prospects by incapacity and gross unfaithfulness; in another he will ruin the prospects of his party as well.

The Angelus Bird.

When traveling in the forests of Guiana and Paraguay, it is not uncommon to meet with a bird whose music greatly resembles that of an Angelus bell when heard from a distance. The Spaniards call this singular bird a bell-ringer, though it may be still more appropriately designated as the Angelus bird, for, like the Angelus bell, it is heard three times a day, morning, noon and night. Its song which defies all description, consists of sounds like the strokes of a bell, succeeding one another every two or three minutes, so clearly and in such a resonant manner that the listener, if a stranger, imagines himself to be near a chapel or convent. But it turns out that the forest is the chapel, and the bell a bird.

The beauty of the Angelus bird is equal to his talent; he is as large as a jay, and as white as snow, besides being graceful in form and swift in motion. But the most curious ornament of the Angelus bird is the tuft of black, arched feathers on its head; it is of conical shape and about four inches in length.

A Prominent Railroad Man Comes to Grief.

Greensboro Patriot.]

It is reported here that Capt. P. H. Adams, formerly of this place, but for some years the agent of the R. & D. R. R. at West Point, Va., is short in his accounts with the railroad. The amount of the deficiency is stated at $26,000. Mr. Adams owned considerable property here, all of which was attached by the railroad company last week.

Capt. Adams's ill-luck is said to be due to extravagant living and unlucky speculations in real estate.

The State Auditor Busy.

Durham Globe.]

Auditor Sanderlin's office is a busy place these days. Besides the blanks, &c., which are being sent to the 4,000 pensioners now on the rolls, blanks are also sent to the registers of deeds of all the counties, together with the necessary instructions. The pensions to be paid this year will amount to something like $80,000, it now appears. The State pension board, as well as the county boards, has hard work ahead.

THURSDAY.....MARCH 20, 1890.

FAYETTEVILLE & ABERDEEN R. R.

Messrs. N. R. Blue and A. D. McGill are canvassing their respective communities in the interest of the Fayetteville & Aberdeen Railroad, and we accept this opportunity to urge the people along the proposed line to give this enterprise all the aid and encouragement possible. To them its importance cannot be estimated by dollars and cents, and upon their action, to some extent, depends the future success of the project. Fayetteville can be counted on to do full well her part in this important matter, and it only needs the endorsement and encouragement of the people along the proposed route to insure the construction of the road. The charter is a liberal one, and provides for the payment of stock in labor, lands, material, &c., thus affording all an opportunity to contribute something, great or small.

Once the line is completed to Aberdeen its continuation to Troy, in Montgomery county, or Albemarle, in Stanly county, is practically insured. By such an extension to the former a connection could be then and there made with the Yadkin Railroad, now under construction from Salisbury to that point. The Fayetteville & Aberdeen Railroad would then form a very important link in the connection between the East and West, reducing the distance from Wilmington, Fayetteville and all eastern points no less than from seventy-five to one hundred miles to Salisbury and all points on the W. N. C. R. R.

HIGH TARIFF INCONSISTENCY.

The Iron Age, published in New York City, gives the substance of what it calls the "New England Petition," which, like all the emanations of that godly and goodly land, is a model of inconsistency and selfishness. Here is the cream thereof:

First—That iron ore and coal and coke shall be put upon the free list, as they were before the war.

Second—that the duty upon pig iron and scrap iron and scrap steel which prevailed immediately before the war be restored—to wit, a duty of 24 per cent. ad valorem.

If there is any one thing which the advocates of high tariff have more persistently dinned into our ears than another it is that the duty on the raw material is not paid by the consumer. In fact, in their ability to hoodwink the people on this point lies their only hope of a respectable following; and yet every line of the above is an unmistakable confession of the puerility of their claim.

Well, we are still sanguine of the coming of the day when the masses of the American people will see the facts as they are:—that, through the pernicious dogmas of New England monopolists, the laboring classes and the humble bread-winners of a country surpassingly rich in natural resources are every day sinking deeper into poverty under the weight of onerous tribute to the enormous wealth of individuals; that the rural districts of New England are being depopulated; that the farmers of the South and West are inextricably caught in the slough of debt and mortgage; and that, in a word, the millions are taxed an average of about 47 per cent. for the bare privilege of living in a land where the favored few are content with naught less than tens of millions.

THE ALLIANCE IN POLITICS.

The Washington correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer says:

Vance will be re-elected if the Alliance does not prevent it. The indications are that he will get that support. He has always been the choice of the farmers of North Carolina, and he has been given to understand that they still appreciate his great worth and devotion to principle. Of all the farmers in the Senate, he was selected to introduce the agricultural depository bill, which is the offspring of the National Alliance, and which is regarded by that organization as test legislation. It begins the fight against the National Bank and Railroad monopolies. The House and Senate will both have an opportunity to make a record on it. The Alliance has determined to push the measure to a vote. The first hearing will be had about April, when President Polk will address the Senate committee on agriculture. The next State legislature, it is said, will show a large Alliance majority in both branches, and so far as can now be seen Vance will be the choice of that element. It is rule or be ruined with the farmers now, as they see it, and if the protection of their interests involves politics, they must either go into politics or go to pieces. There are stirring times ahead, unless all the signs are misleading.

The Farmers' Alliance has before this demonstrated its influence as a factor in State politics, and—we may incidentally say—the masses of which the organization is composed proved themselves, on one notable occasion, far superior to certain of their leaders in good judgment, and far above them in patriotism. The Alliance is made up of the "bone and sinew" of the land; it represents the people—and it is not from such a source that a man like Vance has aught to fear.

FAYETTEVILLE AS A LUMBER MARKET.

As a lumber market for the manufacture and sale of native woods, Fayetteville is rapidly developing into the chief lumber market of the "Old North State."

This subject is very elaborately treated in a communication from one of our most progressive citizens, which will appear in our next issue—lack of space forbidding it in this.

Destructive Frost in North Carolina.

ASHEVILLE, March 17.—Reports coming from the great tobacco counties of Western North Carolina show that at least one-third of the tobacco plants in the beds were killed by the cold weather which prevailed Saturday night and yesterday. The mercury was down to 10° on last Sunday morning.

Personal Pencilings.

Mr. J. Starr Dye left for a trip North yesterday.

Mr. Douglas Haigh, now at Chapel Hill, spent a few days at home last week.

Mr. George Rosenthal has returned from a business trip of some duration to the Northern cities.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Fife returned home on Monday evening last, via the Wilson Short-Cut R. R.

Mr. James Evans has returned from New York, bringing with him a slight case of fancy city "grippe."

Mr. John Weisiger, of the OBSERVER office, is spending the week in Moore county—helping to celebrate the marriage of friends.

Miss Bessie Bryan, of Baltimore, is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Jno. B. Broadfoot, on Haymount.

Miss Fanny Hunter, of Enfield, N. C., is making a visit to her brother and sister, Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Hunter, on Dick street.

Mr. J. W. Cobb, of the Postal Telegraph and Commercial Cable Company, is back at his post after a few days' "outing" from his multifarious duties.

The OBSERVER was glad to have a call from Mr. A. B. McIver, of the firm of A. McIver & Son, who will open a new grocery house here in a few days.

Capt. J. W. Fry, Gen'l Sup't of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway, came down in his special car on Tuesday, and passed on to Wilmington that afternoon.

Judge R. P. Buxton, Capt. N. W. Ray, and Messrs. T. H. Sutton, Geo. M. Rose and H. McD. Robinson, of Fayetteville, have been attending Supreme Court this week.

Miss Hattie Sutton has returned from quite an extended visit to friends and relatives in Bladen county and Wilmington, much to the gratification of her many friends in this city.

Col. and Mrs. K. M. Murchison, of New York, have been spending a few days in Fayetteville this week, where a cordial welcome is always in waiting for the Colonel and his accomplished wife.

Hon. W. H. Crain, member of Congress from the great State of Texas, who has been spending a few days with his old friend, Hon. W. J. Green, at Tokay, returned on Monday to his post of duty at Washington.

Mr. Matthews, of the Reidsville Review, made us a pleasant call last Thursday afternoon—on the occasion of his first visit to Fayetteville. The Review, always progressive, contemplates giving Reidsville a live evening daily at an early day.

We were glad to have a call this week from Prof. Martin Holt, of Oak Ridge. Prof. Holt is at the head of one of the finest schools in the State, and is one of the foremost educators of the day—a ripe scholar and a most excellent gentleman. The OBSERVER is glad to hear of the continued prosperity of Oak Ridge Institute.

Mr. Jno. P. Stedman, of the Egypt Coal Mine Company, spent Sunday in Fayetteville, making us a short but pleasant call during his stay. In an interesting conversation he expressed the opinion that mining operations at Egypt would not be retarded hereafter by any lack of coal. This has been for a year or more our own opinion, and the company may certainly rest easy in the assurance of a demand for all they can bring out.

Valuable Discovery.

We are glad to learn that our townsman Mr. A. J. Cook, has very recently made a valuable discovery of Phosphate deposits on his property near this City. A specimen has been forwarded to the State Geologist for analysis.

At the Hotel LaFayette.

The following tourists have been sojourning at the Hotel LaFayatte during the past week: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. LeGar, Geo. L. Atkins, W. N. Shute, A. J. Mayer, New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Smith, Mt. Airy; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, Wilmington; W. C. Wildes, Worcester, Mass.; Rev. Amos Grayson, J. E. Walker, Randleman; R. O. and W. C. Houston, Philadelphia; W. R. Turner, England.

Manchester Cullings.

Capt. Walker and Mr. Frazier from Randleman have examined the factory here, and "Dame Cry" says they have purchased it, or will soon. They spoke favorably of the prospect of plenty of work for the people, who anxiously came to see them. Capt. Walker is said to be an able business man. He gave the people to understand he would want orderly, respectable employes and none others need apply.

Mr. G. W. Buhman is quite ill at his home in Jonesboro. He is very much missed.

A large dry kiln for the S. L. Co. was commenced Tuesday morning. Mr. Deysher, from New Berne, has it in charge.

Our public school has closed; money all out for this district.

Mr. Watson Fairley, one of "our boys," away at school, has been very ill with la grippe.

Miss Katie Fairley has been visiting friends in your city.

The colored folk have a new school house and it is astonishing how many attend. No more orderly colored people than we have can be found in the sunny South.

Dr. McCormick will devote one day of his valuable time to the "ills" of the people in this community. Saturday is the favored day.

Miss Jennie Steinhilper and Master Howard made us a charming visit last Saturday. They are very lovable and winsome.

Miss Laura Thomson is visiting her friend, Mrs. C. W. Huske.

The hunters have arrived—five of them, namely: Messrs. King, Rice, Snow, Brooks and Jordan. We welcome them; our delusive doubts have vanished; even their dogs are too well-trained to trespass; already the woods resound to the yelping dogs and blasts of horns, recalling many wild chases I have witnessed in my loved "Land of Flowers."

Capt. Reeves, of the C. F. & Y. V., joined the hunters Monday and Wednesday night.

This is a good country for hunting, fishing, tar and rosin. BON AMI.

KENANSVILLE, N. C., March 17, '90.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—We have twice recently been driven into winter quarters by the severity of the weather, and our early-sown garden seed, induced by the warm and delightful spring weather, had sprouted and made their appearance just in time to receive the snow-falls.

The residence of Mr. David Williams, a prominent citizen of this county, and living near Chinquepin, was burned, we regret to learn, a few days ago. There was no insurance, we believe.

Our drummers, Messrs. I. B. Kelly and Paul Brown, are at home for a few days rest.

Mr. Henry Farrior accompanied by his little son Henry, has gone to New York.

Miss Annie Kenan is visiting friends in Goldsboro and in Raleigh.

Mrs. Stephen Farrior, of Magnolia, has been spending some days with Mrs. Henry Farrior.

Mrs. Dr. Matthews, of Wilmington, is visiting the families of her brothers, Messrs. N. H. and J. E. Sprunt.

A delightful entertainment was given a few evenings ago to the young people of the village by Miss Bettie Farrior, complimentary to her Sunday school class.

It was a pleasant surprise to our model hotess, who had provided so many pleasant surprises for her guests, when Prof. Shaw, in a few graceful and happily chosen words, presented to her, in behalf of her class, a gold pen.

According to adjournment, the County Sunday School Convention met here on the 7th inst. The object of the meeting was to organize more thoroughly and prepare for systematic work.

Earnest and pointed talks were made by Mr. Dobson, Rev. Colin Shaw and Rev. J. D. Stanford. We meet again in July.

SEE WHAT MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY WILL DO FOR NURSING MOTHERS AND FEMALE TROUBLES

HOPKWELL P. O., Mecklenburg Co., N. C., September 4, 1888.

MRS. JOE PERSON—Madam:—Four years ago I took a violent cold, which resulted in Quinsy, and after suffering almost death, got relieved; but alas! the disease was in my system, and finally culminated in a womb trouble which caused me great suffering that winter and spring. I could scarcely drag around, and was often so miserable I would pray to die. I begged my husband to let me try your Remedy. He bought me one box, and it has made a perfect cure of me. It has also cured me of Indigestion, and furthermore, after the birth of five of my children, I would nearly lose the use of my arms, and suffered untold agony with Rheumatism and Neuralgia. I have not been troubled with either with my last two children. I keep a bottle of the Remedy in the house all the time. My husband says it is better than a doctor. With all my other children I had great trouble with them during dentition. I can truthfully say, never did children cut teeth with so much ease and as little trouble as my last two have. Whenever I see any sign of their teething, I commence taking the Remedy. It keeps my stomach and bowels regular and in a healthy condition, and seems to have the same effect on theirs. It is certainly the best Tonic I ever tried. A few doses will brace me up and make me feel like a new person. Yes, publish any part of my letter that will help your cause in the least. I hate publicity, but if my experience with the Remedy will be the means of others trying it, I am willing for the public to know the good it has done me and mine. May God bless you! I am very truly,

MRS. ABNER ALEXANDER.

My Remedy is now put in plain, round, pint packing bottles, no name blown. The carton holding bottle is now printed altogether in black ink instead of black and red as heretofore; my signature on each label is now written with pen and ink, instead of lithographed as formerly. Every label and carton numbered, as in physicians' prescriptions. The Wash packages are printed altogether in black ink and numbered. Persons buying the Remedy should see that the new style is furnished them, as I cannot guarantee any other to be genuine. MRS. JOE PERSON,
Kittrell, N. C.

☞This Remedy is for sale by Fayetteville Druggists.

Epoch.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health, to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at $1 per bottle at B. E. Sedberry's Drugstore.

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at B. E. Sedberry's Drug Store as the giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Fire Alarm.

An alarm of fire was sounded during church services last Sunday morning—only a slight blaze at the residence of Mrs. M. J. Pemberton, which the inmates of the household extinguished before the crowd reached the spot.

Cotton.

Cotton is quoted at 10¾ cents on the Fayetteville market this week, which is ¼ of a cent more than is paid at any other point in the State. We have no Bessemer Steel works down here, but Fayetteville "always gets there, just the same."

Off For Japan.

Mrs. R. B. Grinnan, accompanied by her aunt, Miss I. A. Leete, left yesterday for a brief sojourn in Virginia, whence they will go to Japan—the latter leaving the American shores about the middle of April, the former remaining in Virginia until the fall.

Still Making a Good Showing.

Of the total receipts of naval stores at Wilmington one day last week, 20 per cent. of the spirits of turpentine reached market over the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway, 65 per cent. of the rosin, 30 per cent. of the tar, and 100 per cent. (all) of the crude turpentine.

The "Arkansas Fever" Has Broken Out.

About twenty negroes, almost entirely from Seventy-First township, left here via the Wilson Short-Cut R. R. on Friday morning last—their destination Arkansas. Strange to say, the party was composed very largely of women and children, there being only three or four men in the crowd.

District Convention.

The convention of the Young Men's Christian Association for this district will take place in Fayetteville on Thursday, 29th of May. Its sessions will have the benefit of the presence and assistance of Rev. W. J. Eardman, who is spoken of as a man of very pleasing gifts and remarkable attainments as a Bible scholar.

Bladen Court.

Mr. H. L. Cook, who returned yesterday morning from Elizabethtown, informs us that Superior Court adjourned at the expiration of two days—although it was a two weeks term—the State docket being disposed of, and the civil cases almost entirely continued. Judge Brown, who held court, having exchanged with Judge Bynum, gives satisfaction on the bench, being simple and affable in bearing.

Boys' Department.

The General Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association, Mr. G. G. Harley, will meet the boys of Fayetteville, between the ages of 7 and 14 years, in the rooms of the Association to-morrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, for the purpose of systematically organizing a Boys' Department. It is hoped that all the boys who can possibly be present will attend.

Somebody Knows of Him.

The case of the clipped bay horse which was left at Manchester last week has had its denouement. Lawrence Jones, of Durham, charged with having stolen the horse from Mr. George Harden, of that place, is now in custody. Special officer Ingold, who secured the horse at Manchester last Sunday, arrested Jones at Maxton on Tuesday evening, and he was brought to this place yesterday. The officer was prompt and vigilant in following the matter up, and at one time Jones was very nearly off.

"St. Patrick's Day in the Morning."

Bright and early last Monday morning the green ribbon might be seen here and there (it was cold enough to make it excusable in the stalwart sons of Erin to celebrate the day in a "dhrap o' potheen), and one of the first to greet us was Mr. Jas. J. Ahearn, who first surveyed the prospect here on his arrival upon the top of a stage-coach just 37 years ago, and asked, in a peculiarly rich brogue: "And is this Fayetteville, alannah?"

An Erroneous Impression.

A Fayetteville correspondent of the Raleigh News and Observer denies the "published statement" of the Greensboro Patriot that the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railways Shops would be removed to Greensboro. It was our impression that the Patriot simply expressed a wish to see them removed; but, as we now find, the correspondent was quoting that paper correctly, and we are well assured that it is in error in its announcement.

The writer well remembers the substance of a brief conversation with the President of the road, Col. Julius A. Gray, a few years ago, in which the latter stated that, while his plain duty would always be to consult the interests of the company strictly in dealing with such matters as the location of the offices or shops, etc., he saw no advantage to accrue from a removal of the latter to any other point at that time. The necessity has certainly not arisen since, for Fayetteville is to-day more accessible than ever before to all the material needed in manufacturing and construction, has more skilled artisans, and offers more inducements in cheap and comfortable living to an industrial population. President Gray also at that time gave expression to something of the affectionate feeling which we know him to cherish for Fayetteville and its people—and left us with the impression that he would certainly never look up a pretext for moving the shops. But our best reason for not giving credence to the Patriot's statement is that very recently a site has been purchased, which is in every respect admirably adapted to the erection of new shop buildings when the time shall have arrived for that work.

Come Up and See Us, Katie.

We see that Katie Putnam is to be in Wilmington on the 26th inst. If she will take Fayetteville in her way, and give us the "Marchioness," we'll give her a good house, and a house brimming over with hearty, friendly greetings, for she is a great favorite with play-goers here. We recall a very pleasing incident attesting her popularity among the Southern people: during the progress of the ever-memorable entertainment by Emerson Baker, at Ridge Hill Farm, Mass., we were invited by the municipality of Boston to attend the theatre in that city. Katie Putnam appeared in "Child of the Regiment," and when she tripped upon the stage she was saluted with such tumultuous applause by the Southern soldiery that she appeared almost overcome by the ovation.

Katie Putnam has been before the footlights more years than our gallantry will permit us to enumerate; but—like Adelina Patti and Fanny Davenport—she is a modern "Ninon d'Enclos" in the perennial freshness of her charms.

Railroad Notes.

Messrs. Kyle, Bidgood and Williams, with their ample and effective clerical force, are royally lodged in their handsome offices in the new passenger depot—with every adjunct to comfort and every facility for the dispatch of business.

Mr. Willie Slocomb has taken a position in the office of Capt. W. E. Kyle—a young man of excellent parts, who will prove a a helpful accession to the force. Mr. John MacRae, who recently received severe injuries to his hand in the shops, has been assigned to service with Mr. Geo. W. Lake, and will be found capable and efficient in the discharge of his duties.

Last Tuesday we saw in the office of Capt. Kyle beautiful views of the iron bridge over the Cape Fear, the bridge and trestle over Black River, and the depot, photographed by Mr. Alderman, of Greensboro.

Convention Notes.

Mr. Harley, General Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Fayetteville, gives us one or two interesting items with regard to the work and progress of the organization, developed by the proceedings of the late convention.

There were 278 delegates present, representing 50 associations.

The State convention only a few years ago was composed of but 28 delegates, and there was raised for State work $11, compared with $3,076 this year.

The State Secretary (who has hitherto been giving part of his time to South Carolina) will hereafter devote himself exclusively to North Carolina, or a competent assistant will be employed.

Return of the Delegates.

The delegates to the State Convention at Goldsboro from the Young Men's Christian Association of Fayetteville returned on Monday evening last. Goldsboro's hospitality made every hour of their stay delightful, and they are much gratified, too, with the excellent results which they feel sure were accomplished by the deliberations of the convention. Following is the list of the Fayetteville delegates: Messrs. G. G. Harley (General Secretary), R. M. Prior, Jno. Underwood, Q. K. Nimocks, Stiles Sedberry, Marshall Raynor, J. C. Newberry, Robt. McGeachey, A. S. Rose, W. D. Gaster, Jas. H. McNeill.

Not Pleased With It.

In response to our inquiry last week, Mr. J. S. Breece writes us that, from his experience with the Teosinte last season, he does not "consider it valuable, and will not plant it again."

Mr. Breece's judgment in the matter has great weight with us, and we are sorry to have our good opinion of the plant weakened correspondingly.

Very Prompt.

The Hamburg-Bremen Company, of which Mr. Jno. C. Haigh is the excellent agent in this city, and in which Mr. Geo. H. Haigh had his recently-burned residence insured, has already sent the money for the payment of the policy—very commendable promptness. Mr. Haigh has contracted for the building of a new dwelling.

Rose Chapel.

A new Methodist Church is soon to be erected in South Fayetteville, to be called "Rose Chapel," in honor and memory of the late lamented Beverly Rose. He first agitated the question of its establishment and construction, it was one of the dearly cherished objects of the evening of his life, and he more than once expressed the hope that Providence would spare his life until he should witness its dedication.

Destroying Public Notices.

We learn that disorderly persons are in the habit of mutilating and destroying written and printed notices affixed to billboards and other public places about town. They ought to know that their offense may cause great inconvenience to others, to whom the information conveyed in the notices would be valuable—and, besides, they are guilty of a misdemeanor for which they are liable to punishment.

Does Not Expect to Change.

Speaking of a recent visit of Col. Davis to that city, the Raleigh Chronicle says:

Col. A. C. Davis, of the Davis School, is in the city. From the way he talks it is evident that that there is very small if, indeed, any probability of the removal of the Davis School from LaGrange to any point. He said that during the last session Mr. Cochran, a brother of "Nelly Bly," the lightning world-girdler, was a member of the school. There was also in attendance a son of Judge Crisp, of Georgia, the Congressman who has been giving Speaker Reed such interesting tilts in the House of Representatives. The school has patronage from about a dozen States.

The Stanly Man of Numerous Progeny.

A Stanly county correspondent of the Concord Times corrects as follows certain errors of the article recently published in this paper regarding a citizen of that county, the father of 32 children:

A correspondent of Stanly county corrects the article in last week's Times taken from the Fayetteville OBSERVER in reference to the man with 32 children. David Coble (not Camble) has been married three times, and not only once, as the OBSERVER has it. His first wife was the mother of 11 children, his second 9, and his third 12—thirty-two in all. When his twenty-ninth child was born the neighbors coming in at the time said the number ought to be one more to make it even, and Mr. and Mrs. Coble agreed with them. The next children were twins! Mr. Coble is now very feeble, but his wife is vigorous.

There is another citizen of Stanly who comes in this category. His name is W. E. Furr, and he lives or did live, the last time we heard from him, at Bloomington. He has 26 children, and, if we mistake not, one wife is the mother of all. Stanly county is nothing if not prolific of babies.

Evangelist W. P. Fife.

The Concord Times of Friday, 7th inst., has the following as to the deep interest manifested in the religious meetings conducted there by Mr. W. P. Fife, and the good which is attending his efforts:

Evangelist W. P. Fife arrived in Concord at noon on Tuesday, and began his meetings here Tuesday night in the Methodist Church. At the first service he had a crowded house, and at each service since the house has been packed. Great interest is already felt in the meetings. Our people are stirred up as they have never been before, and the best results are expected. Nearly every store in town is closed at the morning service.

Mr. Fife impresses one at a glance as being terribly in earnest. He is, we believe, a holy, consecrated Christian man, and will do great good here, as he has everywhere he has been. His wife accompanies him and assists in the meetings. The efforts thus far have been to arouse Christians to their duty. He will then go to work on the sinners, he says. Concord will, no doubt, have cause before he leaves to long bless the day that sent Evangelist Fife here. We will give a fuller account of the meeting next week.

From a later number of the Times it is evident that the deepest feeling has been aroused by Mr. Fife's trip to that town, and a circumstance was brought to light, intensifying the general interest in him, which he met with his usual boldness and manliness. It seems that a druggist in the eastern part of the State sent a bill against Mr. Fife to Concord for collection, and this was publicly brought out—why, it would be difficult to say, for it was a species of argumentum ad hominem which was entirely uncalled for and manifestly unfair. While improvidence in his former life may have been the cause of this indebtedness, his new and amended life did not, unfortunately, put money in his purse for the immediate liquidation of that indebtedness; but we are glad to be able to say that, by the exercise of rigid self-denial, Mr. Fife has been enabled to pay off his debts in this city, with the exception of a few dollars.

The Times says of him as an evangelist:

Mr. Fife is not only earnest and consecrated but he is bold and fearless. He attacks sin wherever and in whatever form found, and has no apologies to make.

Much of his great success is due to the earnest, quiet, faithful labors of his devoted wife. She works especially among the young. She is much admired by all who know her for her tenderness and quiet earnestness. Such a companion is a great help to the Evangelist.

Before leaving, Mr. Fife was presented with $280 by the people of Concord as a token of appreciation of the faithful work done.

Walter Bingham Found.

Asheville Citizen.]

Three years ago the country was shocked with the particulars of a terrible murder near Raleigh. Walter Bingham, a deaf mute, killed his cousin, a Miss Turlington, and at once left the country. The story was blood-curdling, and if the perpetrator had been caught at the time he would no doubt have been hung. But he successfully eluded the officers, and although traced to Cuba and South America was never captured. At the time a $400 reward was offered for his arrest.

A Pinion detective man thinks he has finally located Bingham in Antwerp, Germany, and is so certain that he is on the right track that he has offered to go across the water at his own expense, if the government will reimburse him if the man is found to be the one wanted.

A letter to that effect was written to the Attorney General, but he replied that he had no authority in the matter. The reward has been withdrawn, and unless the State cares to take some steps in the matter it will rest as it is.

Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The attendance upon the State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association at Goldsboro, commencing on the 13th inst., seems to have been large and worthily representative in character, while the proceedings were important, instructive and of a character to advance the interests of this already large and rapily growing organization.

The following committees were appointed and officers elected:

Committee on Permanent Organization.—T. C. Diggs. of Goldsboro; J. H. Taylor, of Charlotte; H. P. Anderson, of Asheville; W. B. Lee, of Trinity College; J. C. Stewart, of Winston; Geo. S. Watts, of Durham; Dr. T. R. Harriss, of Durham; E. E. Britton, of Mt. Olive; H. C. McQueen, of Wilmington; R. M. Prior, of Fayetteville.

President.—Jas. R. Young, Henderson.

First Vice President.—Jas. H. Southgate, Durham.

Second Vice President.—Thos. R. Robinson, Goldsboro.

Third Vice President.—J. L. Kessler, W. F. College.

Secretary.—J. C. Stewart, of Winston-Salem.

Assistants.—J. N. Willis, Greensboro, and J. D. Swinson, Mt. Olive.

The following committees were announced by the chair:

On Report of Executive Committee.—H. P. Anderson, Asheville; S. E. Gidney, Shelby; W. E. Robbins, State University; W. A. Blair, Winston; R. W. Hicks, Wilmington; J. B. Whitaker, Jr., Durham.

On Credentials.—T. W. Dewey, Goldsboro; W. L. Spencer, Oak Ridge; J. K. McWright, Charlotte.

On Resolutions.—H. C. McQueen, Wilmington; H. C. Wall, Rockingham; A. L. Ormond, Trinity College.

Business Committee.—Wm. Black, Maxton; E. L. Harris, Winston; W. E. Watts, Statesville; T. C. Diggs, Goldsboro.

At the afternoon session of the second day's proceedings Mr. G. G. Harley, General Secretary of Fayetteville, who was put down for the afternoon, read his paper on "How shall we observe the Week of Prayer?"

The Friday night's session in the Opera House was devoted to an animated discussion of the work of the Association throughout the State, and was opened by special prayer for funds for the work of Evangelist Fife.

It was stated that $3,000 would be needed for the work of the coming year, and a moving appeal was made by Mr. J. H. Southgate, of Durham. Before the meeting closed $3,076 were subscribed, of which $425 was pledged by Goldsboro, $401 by Charlotte, and $75 by Fayetteville.

On Saturday the reports from the chairmen of the five State districts were submitted, and a resolution was adopted, requesting the district committees to endeavor to organize at least one Association in every county.

The Young Men's Monthly of Wilmington was adopted as the State organ. It was resolved to open, if practicable, a reading-room at Wrightsville during the State Guard Encampment, and Mr. J. S. Allen offered to deed a lot for a permanent building.

On Saturday night Mr. Ober made an address on the "College Movement," and the following was the order of exercises on Sunday: Consecration meeting, led by H P. Anderson, of Asheville; Men's meeting, led by W. P. Fife; Ladies' meeting, by C. K. Ober; Boy's meeting, by C. T. Smith, and a meeting for colored men at the colored Presbyterian Church. Mr. L. A. Coulter led the farewell services at the Opera House at night.

Durham was unanimously selected as the place for holding the next State Convention.

Afloat on River and "Vasty Deep."

Our friend, "J. E." one of the proprietors and managers of the "Farmers' Exchange" on Gillespie street, has made a recent business trip to the city of New York the occasion for favoring the OBSERVER with the following interesting "notes by the way:"

After a pleasant trip down the river from Fayetteville to the "City by the Sea," with the courteous Capt. R. H. Tomlinson, I found myself just in time to see and hear a portion of the closing proceedings of the State Sunday School Convention, of which I cannot refrain from saying that it was a splendid success, and in contributing to this success your townsman, Mr. Geo. P. McNeill, was not left out of the roll of those entitled to much honor. Wilmington's hospitality, which "welcomes the coming, speeds the parting, guest," was exemplified in the case of a worthy Sunday School delegate, who had lingered behind so long that the transfer steamer Compton, of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway line, left him—and the last we saw of him he was being propelled toward Fayetteville in a yawl by two friendly boatmen. (Did he get there?)

On Saturday morning about daylight I left the dock at Wilmington on board the steamer Gulf Stream, Capt. Trybon commanding, en route for New York. There was a very pleasant crowd of passengers, and before we had proceeded far at sea we began to feel as if we were old acquaintances, though we had neve seen or heard of one another before.

With the exception of cloudy weather and a little rain, things went on smoothly and quietly until about 12 o'clock on Saturday night, when the clouds began to thicken up, and by daybreak a terrific storm of wind and rain was raging, which decided the captain (always solicitous for the comfort and welfare of his passengers) to cast anchor until its violence had abated. Those who were late at breakfast found it quite difficult to keep dishes and plates on the table long enough to eat. However, I made the best of the situation. The rolling of the waves gives good exercise; and, if you don't mind being shaken up a little now and then, come to Wilmington, get aboard a steamer, and make the voyage around to New York. It will take about four days, and will be very pleasant if you have the good fortune to be under the care of such a commander as Capt. Trybon, who has been in charge of a ship for many years, and who, by his kind treatment of all and his marked skill in carrying a vessel through the "pathless ocean," has won general friendship and admiration. His 1st and 2nd officers also deserve special mention. The table was always supplied with the best, and so were the whales and other fish when the steamer commenced to reel and rock. This, you know, is an old-time custom during tempestuous weather in a sea-voyage.

We reached the New York dock in safety on Tuesday night at about 12 o'clock. Everybody and his family seemed to be in town when I first arrived, and as they have not left yet I will wait and see if they won't scatter, so as to give more elbow room to write a few notes of what I saw besides the people.

THE END OF DAY.

The day is done!
Across the western sky
Are golden streaks of light,
As if the chariot of the sun
Had left them in its flight.

The day is done!
The spring and babbling brook
In each sequestered nook,
Seem resting from the noonday's heat,
And settling down to slumbers sweet.

The day is done!
The daisies nod on copse and hill.
Voices of bird grow hushed and still,
And through the forest Silence broods,
For this is Nature's sweetest mood.

The day is done!
On the mossy marbles, 'cross the way,
The uncertain light gleams dim and gray,
And on the names carved o'er the tomb
It settles with a lonely gloom.

The day is done!
One by one, from the village near,
The lights begin to disappear,
Oh! weary hearts, with sorrow pressed,
The night has come! 'tis time to rest.

The day is done!
Peace, blessed peace, broods over all;
Night enters in her lordly hall.
All to Silence give their claim,
For now behold the Night doth reign.

Beets.

Speaking of beets as a crop, Mr. G. Atkin said to an Eastern Farmers' Institute: "An objection sometimes raised against the crop is that it exhausts the soil more than a corn crop. My experience has been entirely different. When I have plowed the leaves under the crop of grain and grass has been double that grown after corn; when the leaves are fed there is not so much difference, but there is no better way of preparing ground for seeding to grass than by growing a root crop of some kind."

Cause of Rust.

After a thorough investigation as to the cause of rust in wheat and other grains, the Guelph, Ont., Agricultural College has arrived at the following conclusions: 1. Seasons are the chief cause of rust; sudden changes of temperature and rain, accompanied by close, still weather, are favorable to its increase. 2. Low lying, rich soils are most subject to attack. 3. An excessive use of manure, rich in nitrogen, encourages the disease. 4. Late sown grain is most subject to attacks. 5. Thinly sown crops seem most liable to injury. 6. Red wheats are less affected than white varieties. 7. Rust is more common in the vicinity of bar-berry hedges than it is at a greater distance.

Permanent Pastures.

Permanent pastures have heretofore been the glory of the English agriculturist, and they are believed to have had much to do with the old-time farm prosperity in that country. A change, though, is coming over the spirit of the Englishman's dream. The London Farmer and Breeder says: "The permanent pasture mania is dying out. Many regret its existence. The plow is again being pulled from its rusty bed amid no very cheering circumstances. The laying down of land to grass will do nothing for the farmer. He must plow and cultivate the soil. He has discovered that one string to his bow is inadequate. Experience has taught, observation has taught, that crop-growing and stock-breeding are inseparable in the pursuit of profitable husbandry."

More Clover

H. N. Clark in Progressive Farmer]

Fellow farmers, now is the time for us to sow clover, while seed are cheap. Your lands are poor, and clover is the best crop to plant to reclaim them, and then, too, it makes such nice hay to feed our cows and horses. You can sow clover now, and with good seasons cut a nice crop of hay in July, by planting good seed (which you can buy of T. W. Wood & Sons, of Richmond, Va.). You see the negroes are going away, and we are bound to plant some crop that does not require so much labor, and planting clover is not as expensive as hauling so much compost, and the clover sod is worth a great deal more as a fertilizer, especially if you will broadcast lime after fallowing, which will be good for most any crop. "Strike while the iron is hot," and sow a few acres right away.

Farm and Garden Notes.

Feed puts the most flesh on the young bones.

Keep pieces of chalk where the young animals can lick them.

The shelter that shuts out both pure and cold air is not a profitable structure.

Every animal must speak for itself, and only its pedigree can speak for its offspring.

The coming farmer will trust less to his eye, and more to foot-rules and to pound-weights.

The value of pedigree is not in its vouching for the ancestry but in its vouching for the offspring.

The secrets of large yields always and everywhere are rich soil, the best seed and thorough tillage.

The farmer who makes his own "hog and hominy" puts another bond on health, and pays himself for so doing.

A few fowls well cared for are more profitable than a large number neglected. This has been fully demonstrated.

Unless your ground is very rolling, haul and spread manure where it is to be used as soon as made. This saves work and saves manure.

A good crop of both corn and weeds cannot be grown on the same ground at the same time, any more than two railway trains can pass each other on the same track.

A Reckless Man.

Dazzle—Where are you going?
Cumso—Going to take a bath.
Dazzle—You don't say so! Well, that shows that the days of miracles are not over yet.
Cumso—Oh, I take a bath every year, no matter whether I really need it or not.

Young Hopeful—Say, pa, you must be a pretty strong man.
Father—Tolerably so, my son, tolerably so. What makes you think so?
Young Hopeful—'Cause Uncle John says he went out with you the other night, and you could carry the biggest load of any man he ever saw.

She—I'm afraid papa doesn't like you a bit, George.
He—Well, what of it? I've got too much sand to be afraid of the old man.
She (apprehensively)—Yes, but sand is just the very thing to make footprints in, George.

Letter From an Eminent Divine In Regard to the Best Medicine in the World. Read.

WONDERFUL CURES.

ATLANTA, GA., January 2, 1890.

Six months ago, at the request of a friend who was interested in the sale of King's Royal Germetuer, I made a written statement of the benefits I had received from the use of that medicine. In that statement I expressed the belief that it would cure me entirely of Catarrh. Within the last two months I have received letters from every quarter of the nation calling on me for further information in regard to my health. It has been impossible for me to write privately to each person who has made this request, and I am therefore under the necessity of making another public statement.

I am free from Catarrh. I believe that I could get a certificate to this effect from any competent physician. I have used no medicine within the last six months except King's Royal Germetuer. My health is better than it has been in thirty years. I am in possession of information which warrants me in saying that the relief which I have experienced from the use of the medicine is not more certain and radical than that which it has brought to hundreds of persons in Georgia and other States.

I feel it to be my duty to say, also, that the effects of this remedy upon my wife have been even more signal and wonderful. She has been almost a lifelong invalid from Nervous Headache, Neuralgia and Rheumatism. In a period of thirty years she has scarcely had a day's exemption from pain. She has been using Germetuer about two months. A more complete transformation I have never witnessed. Every symptom of disease has disappeared. She appears to be twenty years younger, and is as happy and playful as a healthy child. We have persuaded many of our friends to take the medicine, and the testimony of all of them is that it is a great remedy.

J. B. HAWTHORNE,
Pastor First Baptist Church.

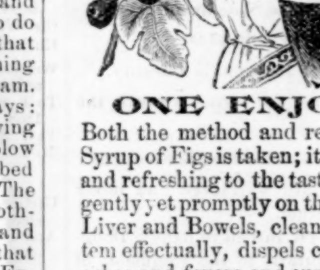

Royal Germetuer builds up from the first dose, the patient quickly feeling its invigorating and health-giving influence. It increases the appetite, aids digestion, clears the complexion, regulates the liver, kidneys, etc., and speedily brings bloom to the cheek, strength to the body and joy to the heart. For weak and debilitated females it is without a rival or a peer.

If you are suffering with disease and fail of a cure, send stamp for printed matter, certificates, etc.

For sale by the Atlantic Germetuer Company, 14 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga., and by druggists. Price reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. Can be sent by express C. O. D. if your druggist cannot supply you.

LEGAL NOTICES.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

VALUABLE TOWN PROPERTY.

On Monday the 7th day of April, 1890, I will sell at the Court House door in the Town of Fayetteville, N. C., to the highest bidder for cash, a tract of land in Cumberland County containing about 28x253 feet, and bounded and described as follows: The same being about one-half of the lot and buildings in Fayetteville, N. C., now occupied as a dwelling by A. G. Thornton and including an equal part—about one-half—of said lot and building, used as a dwelling by the said A. G. Thornton, with the front entrance thereto. The land to be sold is 28 feet front on Lamon street, running with the same from the "Old State Arsenal" lot eastwardly with said street, thence through and including one half of the dwelling and land, about 253 feet to the back line of A. G. Thornton's lot, so as to include the N W. half of said lot and dwelling, the same being the excess over the homestead of A. G. Thornton, as found by the appraisers, and as appears by their return, now on file, which may be seen at my office, to satisfy certain executions in my hands for collection against A. G. Thornton, in favor of C. P. Vanstory and H. I. McDuffie, Agent, and which have been levied on said land as the property of said A. G. Thornton.

BY ORDER OF COURT.

By virtue of a decree of the Superior Court of Cumberland County made at January Term, 1890, in the case of the Bank of Fayetteville vs. D. Jones et al. I will, as commissioner appointed for that purpose, on Monday, the 7th day of April, 1890, at 12 M. at the Market House in Fayetteville, sell to the highest bidder for cash, four tracts of land situated in the northeastern part of Fayetteville, and fully described in a mortgage from D. Jones to R. M. Orrell et als., and recorded in Register's office in Book B, No. 4, page 45, and referred to in the complaint in said action. One of these lots fronts on North street and has a house on it. The other lots lie near it, and one adjoins the residence of Capt. D. Jones. Any information in regard to the property will be given upon application to the undersigned.

The World Moves!

Get Up and Ride!!

When the Big Guns in the Dry Goods trade, who are supposed to buy their goods on long time, insist on selling everything to everybody for strict cash, we think it is time for us heathen, who have to pay cash and cash only for our goods before we can ever see them, to follow in their illustrious footsteps.

It is a well-known fact that all dealers in Grain are compelled by the commercial law of the times to pay for their supplies before they can get them, however much such dealers may be worth, or however they may be.

We have decided therefore to adopt the same rule in selling that we have to abide by in buying. In our case, this should always have been the rule. The unbusiness-like methods of others being our only excuse for wrong-doing, we trust that all of our patrons will "catch on" to the "new departure," and show their appreciation of our endeavors in the past to please them, by continuing to give us their patronage.

Recollect that we sell you

We also hold that to endeavor to do a

Hand to Hand Cash Trnasaction

with every purchase is not only impracticable but also unbusiness-like, and we wish it distinctly understood that accounts with parties of a known place of business, that are always promptly paid on presentation without any foolishness, is in our opinion cash.
